

Gram Parsons - November Nights

Tom: B

Gb E
 You say that you're restless, you say that you know me too well
 Gb E
 You've seen all my best and you've heard all the stories I tell
 Gb Gb E
 You think you've been taken for granted, you're probably right
 B E Gb B
 Still I remember a November Night
 Em E Gb B
 When the dawn on your doorway shone white with frost
 B Em
 And the soft love that always began with the touch of your hand
 Gb E B Gb B
 And recall the mornings that tossed your hair in the wind
 Gb E
 Time's made it meaningless, I'm insecure, you can tell
 Gb E
 But why am I leaving unless time had only meant well?
 Gb E
 Gb Gb

There's nothing left now to excite you, no reason to try

B E Gb B
 Still I remember a candlelit sky
 Em? E Gb B
 And the summer surrounding the ground where you and I lay
 B Em B
 And though we were always alone with our secrets known
 Gb E B Gb B
 We both were aware and afraid our closeness might end
 Gb E B
 My love's like a dancer, she weaves through the dangers complete
 Gb E B
 Her well rehearsed answers with rational reasons for feet
 Gb E Gb
 And if it decreases or ceases to always seem right
 B E Gb B
 I'll just remember a November Night
 Em? E Gb B
 When the dawn on your doorway shone white with frost
 B B Em B
 And the soft love that always began with the touch of your hand
 B Gb E B Gb B
 Gb And recall the mornings that tossed your hair in the wind
