

Gregory Alan Isakov - All There Is

Tom: E

<sup>E</sup>
All the lights have changed,
<sup>E</sup>
Coming back into the city,
Driving homeward slow.

<sup>E</sup>
Shimmer like you do to me
<sup>E</sup>
We laugh at all those changing trees,
Autumn is fallin' down again
Out of this blue sunday dream.

<sup>E</sup>
Come to me with your smoky mouth,
<sup>E</sup>
Raindrops fall on this old town,

<sup>A</sup> <sup>E</sup>
It's been me and you who've been fallin' round.

<sup>A</sup> <sup>E</sup>
Well i lied to you when i knocked upon your door
See i was nowhere near your neighborhood.

<sup>Gb</sup>
But if this is all in our minds,

<sup>A</sup>
This is all just in our minds
Honey would you mind getting out of mine?

<sup>Gb</sup>
If this is all just in our heads,

<sup>A</sup>
Well now it's screaming red,

<sup>E</sup> <sup>Ab</sup>
Watching the leaves fall down and laugh at us instead
