Walking never stop talking when I'm with you

All the places that I've been chasing looking for you

I'm going to be high and crazy thanks to you

It's raining in my heart oh baby what can I do?

Sad stories flowing through my body over my soul

I remember holding back together but not no more

We're going out for a party and the other day will be no cool

Never thinking to stop oh baby what will I do?

This time I walk alone I walk with pride

This time there is no fog between my eyes

This time I never want to see you again

This time you are a shadow for this fool

But this fool is in duty no more?no more

Singing playing for the living that's what I do

Now the changing is making me believing life is so good

And if you shake shake with the white lady baby help your soul
