

Sammy Hagar - Who has the Right

Tom: G

Intro: G C D

Here's a message from the heart

Are you listening?

Some things belong to you

And no one else

Oh, one more life is taken

And that's one more than god allows.

And there's another on the row shouting out

Who has the right?

And there's a war out in the streets

That no one is winning

Tell me when did a human life become so cheap

And how can we take away

What we did not create?

Beyond the power of the conscience

Beyond the power of the state

Tell me who

Who has the right?

Well no one has the right

Everyone's a victim

And everyone's to blame

Oh and we are all so diff yet the same

Oh and everyones a master

Of their own destiny

As long as one of us is chained

None of us are free

Are we making a mistake here

We there's no room for that

Who has the right?

Well no one has the right
