

Halestorm - Better Sorry Than Safe

```
Intro: Cm Ab Bb
                                                            And make my escape
                                                            Refrão:
Eb
                     Ah
I can't even think of one good reason
                                                             Im not scared
Why im always thinkin about leavin
                                                                                                   Cm
                                                            Cause i know there's something out there waiting for me
         Ab
Its not like everything's so horrible
            Ab
                                                            And i swear
Been together for a few years now
                                                            Ab
                                                            That i'll find it someday
And you know all my ins and outs
                                                            Cm
                                                             Just wait and see
Cm Ab
But everything's way to comfortable
                                                                 Eb
                                                             I don't care
From the moment i wake
                                                                  Ab
                                                            That you call me crazy
I plan my escape
                                                                             Bb
                                                             I can't stay cause i need room to breathe
                                                            There's nothing left to say
Im not scared
                                                            Better sorry than safe
Cause i know there's something out there waiting for me
                                                             Solo: Cm Ab Eb Bb Cm Ab Eb Bb Ab Ab Bb
And i swear
Ab
That i'll find it someday
                                                            Im not scared
                                                            Bb
Just wait and see
                                                             Cause i know there's something out there waiting for me
 Fb
I don't care
                                                            And i swear
       Ab
That you call me crazy
                                                            That i'll find it someday
      Bb
                                                            Dm C
I can't stay cause i need room to breathe
                                                            Just wait and see
There's nothing left to say
                                                             I don't care
                                                                    Bb
                 Cm
                                                            That you call me crazy
Better sorry than safe
                                                            I can't stay cause i need room to breathe
                 Ab
Sometimes i wish you cheated on me
                                                            There's nothing left to say
Then leavin here would be so easy
                                                                            F Bb Dm C F Bb
              Ab
                                                            Better sorry than safe
Its time to take a chance and give you up
In the morning i wake
                                                             (there's nothing left to say...)
```

Acordes

