

Hanson - Bridges of stone

Tom: Db

(I. Hanson / T. Hanson / Z. Hanson)

[Intro:] Gb6 Ab Db

You can only push someone so far
 You can only break so many hearts
 It used to be love one another
 But now it's lust for your lover
 Baby, I was trying to burn bridges of stone

You can only wait
 You can only wait so long
 You can only wait
 You can only wait so long
 In this game we play can't tell right from wrong
 Cos you can only wait so long

There go the memories from yesterday
 There go the memories from yesterday

With all the poetry, all those things I couldn't say
 You can only wait so long before your flower petals are all gone
 Baby, I was trying to burn bridges of stone
 Why couldn't you call out for me?
 It's not like I was ever far away
 Said, ohhh! Tie me to the edge and start to leap
 There's nothing left but a million words to say

You can only push someone so far
 You can only break so many hearts
 We only memories and I have served my time in pain
 Don't give into enemies cos they'll leave you in the rain
 We'll find a way somehow, through this winding, twisting road we've found
 You won't find me crying for what used to be home
 You won't find me trying to burn bridges of stone
