

Hanson - Lonely Again

Tom: D

[Intro:] D G A

You're supposed to give more than you take

You had my heart on your plate

You stopped loving me so fast

There are stories left untold

You act like they're all old

But then you and I

We belong together again and I said

D G

Whoa oh, sha na na...

I think I'm feeling lonely again

You're supposed to look into my eyes
Forever and all time

You stopped loving me that way

And I never thought that I

I would ever have to cry out

That you and I

We belong together again and I said

I feel you tossing and turning said

I know there's walls we have to climb

I sit here waiting and yearning 'cause I

I know we can get by
