

Hanson - Love song

Tom: C

[Intro:] F F F F Am G

The wind it blows through the trees

Claiming those innocent leaves

And the thunder rolls these crashing seas

Like a tender kiss holds this heart in me

In this life long love song

You can love right, you can love wrong

In this love song you can love long

But if you love wrong it doesn't mean love's gone

Mary was a young girl with a young girl's heart

All I can remember is I loved her from the start
I was hers forever, she was mine too
But something's wrong 'cause now she's gone tell what should I do

And it doesn't mean love's wrong just because you're feeling low

And it doesn't mean love's gone 'cause you feel like you want to let go

Well no one wrote in this book of love that you'd always know
I wish someone would have told me before

We talked about love a million times it seems
Words come out our lips like we forgot what it means
We Said we'd be together 'til death do us part
But we said those words with only half our heart

I wish someone would have told me before
