

Hanson - Next Train

Tom: B

(I. Hanson / T. Hanson / Z. Hanson)

Well I finally found tomorrow
 'Cause I just now found today
 And I'm left with all the sorrow
 Lingering from yesterday

So I'm leaving this behind on the next train
 To what place, well I don't know
 When I leave I may not ride on the best train
 But I'm tired of trying to let go
 Well I'd love for you to be there
 On the day I say goodbye

But I've lost too much to your stare
 To even waste a sigh

So I'm leaving this behind on the next train
 To a place where I don't know
 Yes, I'm leaving this behind on the next train
 Cause I'm tired of trying to let go

You're the drug that's in my veins
 You life me up and leave me pain
 I'm broken, beaten, barely sane
 So I'm leaving on the next train
 I gladly stayed to wade it through
 And find out what I've meant to you
 But it's clear to me this time
 So I'm leaving this behind
