

Hey Monday - Run, Don't Walk

Intro: E
(Dbm A E B)2x
I am restless, and I keep trembling
Everyone watch me as I descend
                                                                I'm lost, I'm lost with you
Into a feeling that's overwhelming me
I finally stopped, stopped making sense
                                                                          Dbm
I can't stop talking to myself, I'm a desperate cry for help
                                                                             Gbm
Run don't walk the sky is falling through
                                                                Things are looking better
Don't talk, tonight I'm so confused
                                                                For once everything is brighter
I'm lost, I'm lost with you
                                                                               Abm
\mathsf{Dbm}
                                                                Than the darkness before you
I don't care where we are, or where were heading to
                   Α
                                                                I'm lost, I'm lost with you
But I know I'm lost, I'm lost with you, with you
Your mouth keeps moving
But I've lost focus now
                                                                I'm lost, I'm lost with you
Clock keeps ticking, times running out
                                                                Dbm
Where were heading there's no heading back
Tripping, ugly, I'm losing ground
