

Hole - Pacific Coast Highway

Tom: C

I knew a boy who came from the sea

He was the only boy who ever knew the truth about me

I'm overwhelmed and undersexed

Baby, what did you expect?

I'm overwrought and so disgraced

I'm too ashamed to show my face

And they're coming to take me away now

What I want I'll never have

I'm on the pacific coast highway

with your gun in my hand

I knew a boy who left me so ravaged

Do you even know the extent of the damage?

My dirty little secret died in between the sheets and the promises that killed me from your eyes

I'm bloody and so tightly bound

I don't know what to do with my hands now

I surrender, I give in

I'll kick down your door if you don't let me in

And I've lost myself completely

I look to you my shooting star

I'm on the Pacific Coast Highway

My God, how did you fall so far?

Your whole world is in my hands

Your whole wide world is in my hands

Your whole world is in my hands

Your whole wide world is in my hands
