

Imagine Dragons - Every Night

Tom: C

(com acordes na forma de Capostrate na 5ª casa G)

I'm coming home to you
 Every night, every night, every night, every night

I'm the colorless sunrise
 That's never good enough
 I'm the wind that's in your hair

That ruffles you up
 If you can find a reason
 You can let me know

I won't blame you
 I'll just turn and go

I'm coming home to you
 Every night, every night, every night, every night

Coming home to you
 Every night, every night, every night, every night
 My mind is made up

Nothing could change that
 I'm coming home to you

Every night, every night, every night, every night

Searching to find myself
 But all I find is you

I can hardly stand myself
 So what am I to you?
 If you can find a reason

You could let me know
 I won't blame you
 I'll just turn and go

I'm coming home to you
 Every night, every night, every night, every night

Coming home to you
 Every night, every night, every night, every night
 My mind is made up

Nothing could change that
 I'm coming home to you

Every night, every night, every night, every night

No matter, no matter
 No matter what we're facing

It don't matter, don't matter
 'Cause the reason that I'm here

Is the same through all these years
 Not changing, not changing
 Anything at all

I'm coming home to you
 Every night, every night, every night, every night

Coming home to you
 Every night, every night, every night, every night
 My mind is made up

Nothing could change that
 I'm coming home to you

Every night, every night, every night, every night
