

India.Arie - Can I Walk With You

Intro: G Dm G Dm (2x)
                                                                                                                Dm
I woke up this morning
You were the first thing on my mind
                                                                                                                                                      Dm
I don't know were it came from % \left( 1\right) =\left( 1\right) \left( 1\right) \left
                                                                                                                      G
All I know is I need you in my life, yeah
                                                                             Dm
                                                                                                                                                                                                             G
You make me feel like I can be a better woman
                                                                                                                                                                                             Bb
If you just say you wanna take this friendship to another place
                                                                                                                        СВ
Can I walk with you through your life {\color{red}\text{C}} {\color{blue}\text{D}}
Can I lay with you as your wife
                                                                                                      СВ
Can I be your friend till the end
                                                                                                                     C D
Can I walk with you through your life
You've got me wandering
If you know that I am wandering about you
                                                               Dm
The feeling is so strong that
                                                        G
I can't imagine you're not feeling it too, yeah
                                                                                           Dm
 You've known me long enough to trust
                                                          G
                                                                                                                                                         Dm
That our world was best for you
