

Ingrid Michaelson - Sort Of

Tom: D

D
Baby, you've got the sort of hands to rip me apart G A

D D G A
And baby, you've got the sort of face to start this old heart
But your eyes are warning me this early morning A
That my love's too big for you my love A

D G A
Baby, you've got the sort of laugh that waters me
And makes me grow tall and strong and proud and flattens me A
I find you stunning, but you are running me down A
My love's too big for you my love A
My love's too big for you my love A

(refrão)
G Bm G A
And if I was stronger then I would tell you no
G Bm G A
And if I was stronger then I will leave this show
G Bm G A
And if I was stronger then I would up and go
G D Em A
But here I am and here we go again

D G A
Baby, you've got the sort of eyes that tell me tales
D G A
That your sort of mouth just will not say, the truth impales
D G A
That you don't need me, but you won't leave me
My love's too big for you my love A
My love's too big for you my love A

G Bm G A
And if I was stronger then I would tell you no
G Bm G A
And if I was stronger then I will leave this show
G Bm G A
And if I was stronger then I would up and go
G D Em A
But here I am and here we go again

Em D G
Tell me what to do, to take away the you
