

Iron Maiden - Sun and Steel

Tom: G

Written by Bruce Dickinson and Adrian Smith.
 Performed by IRON MAIDEN.
 Taken from the album PIECE OF MIND.

NOTE:
 This song is about Miyamoto Musashi, a legendary Japanese Swordsman.
 Iron Maiden have never played this song live.

Transcribed by Oskar "The Seventh Son" Wigren.

Opening-riff:

Verse:

You killed your first man at 13

Killer instict, animal supreme

Riff 2:

Chorus:

Sunlight, falling on your steel. Death in life is...

..your ideal, life is like a wheel

End of chorus.

Riff 3:

End of riff 3.

Solo-riff:

Riff 4:

End of riff 4.

Opening-riff

Verse
 Riff 2
 Verse
 Riff 2
 Chorus (2 times)
 Riff 2
 Verse
 Riff 2
 Verse
 Riff 2
 Chorus (2 times)
 Riff 3 (2 times)
 Solo-riff (3 times)
 Riff 4
 Chorus (4 times)
END

Lyrics:

You killed your first man at 13,
 Killer instinct, animal supreme,
 By 16 you had learned to fight
 The way of the warrior, you took it as your right.

Chorus:

Sunlight, falling on your steel,
 Death in life is your ideal,
 Life is like a wheel, rolling on and on

Through earth and water, fire and wind,
 You came at last-nothing was the end,
 Make a cut by fire and stones,
 Take you and your blade and brake you both in two-break you both in two

OSKAR WIGREN 1996-12-25

Acordes

