

Isabella Erardi - God Made You By Hand

No one knows why she did it
 ?Cause no one could hear her crying
 She was a slave to her mind
 Spent her life tryin? to find a way out
 Depression chained her to the ground
 Made each step a little harder to take
 Lookin? in the mirror
 Couldn?t find one reason to stay

But when she felt unworthy
 God wrapped his arms around her
 And on her darkest day, he said

I made you by hand
 I made you by hand
 Don?t think for a second
 I?d ever forget you
 I made you by hand

You?re my work of art
 I know you by heart
 Don?t think for a second
 That you don?t matter
 You?re my work of art
 (Hey, hey)(B,E,G#m,F#,E)

He goes through life with his head down
 Never does he feel enough
 He?s praying and starving for any kind of worth
 But this world gives no sympathy
 It?s too hard to breathe
 No wonder why he?s suffocating

And so the pain gets too much
 He?s this close to giving up
 But then he hears a voice that says, no

Hold me, remind me
 I?m your design
 This world might break me
 But it can?t change who made me
