F C Dm7
Our friends on the front porch telling jokes and they swing
Swiftly towards happier times
F Bb C Dm7
Expanding lines and finding more energy for the effort and Getting distance from that front porch spotlight
F C Dm7 Bb
But us we found peace in shadows long enough to see the monsters rise
F C Dm7
Candy's got some space to fill in her daydreams living high on
Bb
Yesterday's lie
F C Dm7
Talking to me about some 0% interest and how she got a better
Bb
Deal than the next guy
Dm Dm7 Dm7 Dm Dm
And the way the lightning shocked us when we were lost and
Dm Dm7 Dm7 Dm7
Looking down that long missouri highway your hair was longer

Mine only brushes your soft surface
F C Dm7 Bb
And somehow it leaves me listless, my tongue curls under my lips
Oh yes
F C Dm7 Bb
So i cant speak to tell you of the months before i met you
Dm Dm7 Dm7 Dm Dm Dm7 Dm
And the way the truth it locked us right about the time after

Bb

Those tiny fragments of perfection they please me in a time
C
Unchanged when its not the same beginning
Dm7 Bb F
Or along awaited end.. if i knew all the words i would write

Bb
Towards happier times
F C Dm7
Expanding lines and finding more energy for the effort and
Bb
Getting distance from that front porch spotlight
F C Dm7 Bb

F C Dm7
We all need to find a little space in our daydreams long

Bb
Long enough?
F C Dm7 Bb
Is it long enough for me? long enough for me to chew on.
F C Dm7
