

Jeff Buckley - Lover, You Should've Come Over

tom:

Intro: D C Em G

D
Looking out the door

I see the rain fall upon the funeral mourners

Parading in a wake of sad relations

As their shoes fill up with water

And maybe I'm too young

To keep good love from going wrong

But tonight, you're on my mind so

(You'll never know)

I'm broken down and hungry for your love

With no way to feed it

Where are you tonight?

Child you know how much I need it

Too young to hold on

And too old to just break free and run

[Refrão]

Sometimes a man gets carried away

When he feels like he should be having his fun

And much too blind to see the damage he's done

Sometimes a man must awake to find that, really

He has no one

So I'll wait for you... And I'll burn

Oh will I ever see your sweet return?

Oh, will I ever learn?

Oh, oh, oh, lover, you should've come over

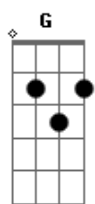

'Cause it's not too late

Lonely is the room, the bed is made

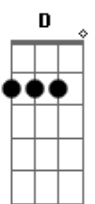

The open window lets the rain in

Burning in the corner is the only one

Who dreams he had you with him

My body turns and yearns for a sleep

That won't never come

It's never over

My kingdom for a kiss upon her shoulder

It's never over, all my riches for her smiles

When I slept so soft against her

It's never over

All my blood for the sweetness of her laughter

( Em7 )

It's never over, she's the tear

That hangs inside my soul forever

Maybe I'm just too young

To keep good love from going wrong

Oh... Oh... Oh... Oh... Oh

Lover, you should've come over

( Em Em7 Em )

I feel too young to hold on

I'm much too old to break free and run

Too deaf, dumb, and blind

To see the damage I've done

Sweet lover, you should've come over

Oh, love I'm waiting for you

Lover, lover, love, lover, love, love, love, love

Love, lover

Looooooover

( A G A C Bm )

You should've come over

Cause it's not too late
