                                                                Go down, but I'll go down fighting
                                                                Don't know where, don't know why

                                                                But I can't go back, back to the way I was
I've been here in this place
                                                                I'll show who I am from the inside
          Em
I've been stuck in this space
                                                                Gonna take my walk on the wild side
Like a ghost that's been missing its life
                                                                Don't know where, don't know why
Silent words in my mouth
                                                                But I can't go back, back to the way I was
Yeah, they want to scream out
                                                                Oh-woah, oh-woah, oh
And I'll leave my old shadow behind
                                                                Oh-woah, oh-woah, oh
In my heart and out of my mind
                                                                Oh-woah, oh-woah
                                                                No, I can't go back, back to the way I was
I'll go, but I won't go quietly
Go down, but I'll go down fighting
                                                                I'll go, but I won't go quietly
                                                                Go down, but I'll go down fighting
Don't know where, don't know why
But I can't go back, back to the way I was
                                                                Could be hurt, could be love
I'll show who I am from the inside
                                                                But I can't go back, back to the way I waaaaaas
Gonna take my walk on the wild side
                                                                I'll go, but I won't go quietly (oh oh oh)
Don't know where, don't know why
                                                                Go down, but I'll go down fighting (go down fighting)
But I can't go back, back to the way I was
                                                                Don't know where, don't know why (woahhhh)
Oh-woah, oh-woah, oh
                                                                But I can't go back, back to the way I was
Oh-woah, oh-woah, oh
                                                                I'll show who I am from the inside (who I am from the inside)
Oh-woah, oh-woah
                                                                Gonna take my walk on the wild side (on the wild side)
No, I can't go back, back to the way I was
                                                                Don't know where, don't know why (ohhhhh)
I'm the leaf, I'm a seed
                                                                But I can't go back, back to the way I was
That's been waiting for spring
                                                                Oh-woah, oh-woah, oh
I'm a girl reinventing herself
                                                                Oh-woah, oh-woah, oh
We might fall, we might rise
                                                                Oh-woah, oh-woah
We are all butterflies

                                                                No, I can't go back, back to the way I was
Breaking free from our jars on the shelf
                                                                Oh-woah, oh-woah, oh
Finding out the truth for ourselves
0h-woah
                                                                Oh-woah, oh-woah, oh
                                                                Bm

I'll go, but I won't go quietly
                                                                No, I can't go back, back to the way I was
