

Jeremy Zucker - Not Ur Friend

```
tom:
                                                        Oh, babe
Yeah, tomorrow is your birthday
                   Abm A
I?thought?it was last?Thursday, girl
We know you love a?party
                                                        Sorry, I'm not sorry if it hurts
Go celebrate and I'll be
                                                              В
                                                        I don't mean to make it worse
On my way to distant shores
                                                          Gbm Abm
       Gbm Abm
If?you?weren't?so insecure
                                                         A E
You'd learn?to close each?open door for me
Oh, babe
               Е
                                                               В
Hang up, if you ever think of calling
                                                        It's to say it to your face
B Gbm
                                                             Gbm
Me up, not afraid to say it darling
A E
Sorry, I'm not sorry if it hurts
      В
I don't mean to make it worse
 Gbm
I've decided that I'm not your fucking friend
 A E
Right now, there's not much that we agree on Gbm
Sit down, if you need someone to lean on
                                                        Sorry, I'm not sorry if it hurts
Honest, if I'm coming to your place
                                                              В
                                                        I don't mean to make it worse
It's to say it to your face
                                                           Gbm Abm
     Gbm
I've decided that I'm not your fucking friend
                                                         A E
A E
I think you might be okay
Abm
Abm
Could care less what your friends say
A E
Well, I'd rather sit in silence
                                                               В
                                                        It's to say it to your face
                                                              Gbm
Than be here while you're crying
                 Е
Darling, watch me disappear
        Gbm Abm
Ignorance is bliss, I hear, and
                                                           I've decided that I'm not your fucking friend
```

I have always been sincere to you Hang up, if you ever think of calling B Gbm Abm Me up, not afraid to say it darling A E I've decided that I'm not your fucking friend Right now, there's not much that we agree on Gbm Abm A Sit down, if you need someone to lean on Honest, if I'm coming to your place I've decided that I'm not your fucking friend A E B Gbm Abm A I've decided that I'm not your fucking friend E B Gbm Abm A I've decided that I'm not your? Hang up, if you ever think of calling Me up, not afraid to say it darling I've decided that I'm not your fucking friend Right now, there's not much that we agree on Gbm Abm A Sit down, if you need someone to lean on Honest, if I'm coming to your place I've decided that I'm not your fucking friend A E B Gbm Abm A I've decided that I'm not your fucking friend E B Gbm Abm

Acordes

