

Jerry Lee Lewis - Just Who Is To Blame

Tom: G

You heard that she has been seeing me
 You said all the women are the same
 But maybe you had better stop and think now
 Just who is to blame
 She needs your love you give her misery
 All her love for you has been in vain
 She needs to feel love and wanted oh yeah now
 Just who is to blame
 C G

Can you blame her for being lonely
 When you are the one who leaves her all alone
 There's two sides to every story
 Don't blame her now you may be wrong
 In her heart she's still thinking love you
 But love for you is still the same
 She doesn't love me she needs your love now
 Just who is to blame
 So just who is to blame
 Just who is to blame
