       Am
So many times
                                                                I was lost and you found me
You reached out to me
                                                                I was dead inside

                                             G
But I turned my back 'cause I didn't think you had what I need And you breathed into me
                                                                And you brought these bones to life
Now you're everything

You're everything to me

I can't be without you God

You're everything

                                                                                Am
And I want to say thank you
                                                                You stood with open arms
                                                                But I ran away
I was lost and you found me
                                                                                        C
                                                                                                                  G
                                                                'Cause I was scared of the pain that came with trust
I was dead inside
And you breathed into me
                                                                        Am
                                                                I don't deserve you God (x2)
                G
And you brought these bones to life
                                                                                                         G
                                                                                      Am
                                                                But you keep on loving me anyway

                                                                                                           G

                Am
You stood with open arms
                                                                I was dead inside

But I ran away
                                                                And you breathed into me
                        С
                                               G
'Cause I was scared of the pain that came with trust
                                                                And you brought these bones to life

But I came running back
                                                                I want to say thank you
                F
                                                                                F
Into your embrace

Because I knew you'd still be there
                                                                Thank you for loving me unconditionally God
