

Jinkx Monsoon - Cartoons And Vodka

Tom: B
                                                               Don't you know, it takes two crates of makeup to go out lookin' this fine
Intro: Bm Gb
[Primeira Parte]
                                                               I don't work these nails to the bone to hear you squabble and
                                                               So help me out
Baby I've been stompin' around in these heels for all the goddamn day
                                                               [Pré-Refrão]
I got aches and annoyance from living to earn my pay
                                                               You better believe that I'm hot, I'm wet
Yet some piece and quiet from you would really go a long way
                                                                       D
                                                               And it's really not fair
So ease it down
                                                               Takes more than a tall cool glass of you, there honey, to [Pré-Refrão]
                                                               bring me up for air
You see I'm tired, I'm spent
                                                               And I've been too blown to rest these bones for a long country
I'm really feeling my age
                                                                                 Em
                                                               So let's get some cartoons and Vodka
You know life is twice as hard when you're living half on the
                                                               And put 'em on for a while
And I barely have the energy to sing you this song
                                                               [Refrão]
               Em
So let's get some cartoons and Vodka
                                                               Oooh boy, now gimme some of that smile
         D
                    Bm
And do 'em all night long
                                                                         Em
                                                               Drink 'em down, drink 'em down, drink 'em down, oooh
                                                               ( Bm E Gb )
( Bm E Gb )
[Refrão]
                D
                                                               (Bm D Gb Bm)
Oooh boy, are you ready for some fun?
                                                               [Refrão]
Drink 'em down, drink 'em down, drink 'em down, oooh
[Segunda Parte]
                                                               Oooh boy, are you ready for some fun?
                                                               Drink 'em down, drink 'em down, drink 'em down, oooh
You can call me juvenile, but I'm picky on how I spend my time
                                                               [Final] E A D B
