

Joe Brooks - April Winds

Tom: G
Intro: G D Em C

[Primeira Parte]

Did you ever think the sun could turn cold
Do you ever miss the freedom of the sand between your toes
I was standing at your way???
She threw in a side to change
Put a kite into the air
Should you ever feel alone

[Refrão]

Meet me in the April winds
Meet me when the sun goes down
When your smile is wearing thin
And your heart has all but hit the ground
There is happiness at the end of this string
So bring the ocean as I bring the April winds

[Segunda Parte]

I never meant to let go of your hands
But It's hard to face the weather and now a calm awaited man
So trust me when I say
All the parts of us will change
The storms they hit so hard
But the heart of us remains

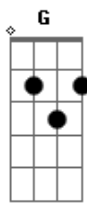

[Refrão]

So meet me in the April winds
Meet me when the sun goes down
When your smile is wearing thin
And your heart has all but hit the ground
There are promises at the end of this string
So bring your ocean as I bring the April winds

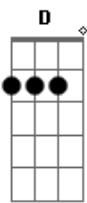

[Ponte]

And I will hold you wrapped inside my fingers
Even though you may not feel their tenderness
I'll stand by your ground should you ever come down
I will be to raise you up again
I will be waiting in the April winds
