

John Mayer - Untitled Song 1999

Tom: A

Intro: A Dbm (2x)

A Dbm
Basically nothin' has changed
She explained

A Dbm
We're so happy you're home again

A
You take the winter

Dbm
To get back on your feet

D
Your bed is bein' made

Dbm A Dbm
And your father washed the sheets for you

(A Dbm)

So we talked a while

Dbm
About all my woes

A Dbm
Their smiles worse than I told you so's

A Dbm
When she said to wash up and get to bed

D
I knew the freedom I had learned

Dbm
I'd learn quickly to forget

Dbm (A) E
And nobody understands

Dbm (A) E
And nobody seems to care

Dbm A E

'Bout the compromise of a man

Dbm A E
Comin' home after five long years

Dbm A E
Givin' up after five long years

A Dbm
Unpacked my bags in the livin' room

A Dbm
Smell the last of a sweet perfume

A Dbm D
Came from the girl that went with the world that I traded in today

Dbm
Just to live a safer way

Dbm (A) E
And nobody understands

Dbm (A) E
And nobody seems to care

Dbm A E
'Bout the compromise of a man

Dbm A E
Comin' home after five long years

Dbm A E
Givin' up after five long years

Gbm
She says you're always welcome here

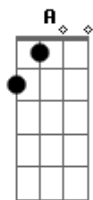

A
You'll never be alone

Gbm
Perhaps that's now my greatest fear

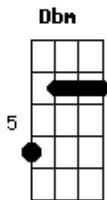

A Bm Dbm A E
I'll always call this home

Dbm A E
This home
