John Paul White - Once And Future Queen

```
Tom: B
                                                                (Abm Db7 E Eb7 Abm)
Intro: Abm Db7 E Eb7 Abm
                                                                                                        Db7
                                                               Abm
                                        Dh7
                                                               If I thought I was good for you, if I thought this could work
Δhm
Someone's gonna hold your hand and everything will click
                                                                Е
                                                                                                                Abm
                                                                I'd reach a little island and pull you back to earth
                                                Abm
Touch you in someone unknown way that finally does the trick
                                                                                               Db7
                                                                Abm
                                                                But the man you're really looking for, want in all your dreams
Abm
                               Db7
Pull you in a fairytale where you were meant to be
                                                                                        Fb7
                                                                                                        Abm
                                                                F
                        Eb7
                                                               Someone, that someone won't be me
                                        Abm
Someone, well, someone won't be me
                                                               Е
Abm
                                        Db7
                                                               And that's okay
Someone's out there praying for the day that you walk in Gb
                                                                                                Abm
                                                               You never really loved me anyway
                                                Abm
And happy ever after can finally begin
                                                                                                Eb7
                                                               Abm
                                                               Not enough to meet me halfway
Abm
                                Db7
Someone who'll stop at nothing to give you all you need
                                                                                                Db Eb7 E Gb Abm
                                                               F Gb
                                                               Or love something, you can only take
F
                        Eb7
                                        Abm
Someone, but, someone won't be me
                                                                (Db Eb7 E Gb Abm)
F
And that's okay
                                                               F
 Gb
                                Abm
                                                               And that's okay
I never really loved you anyway
                                                                 Gb
                                                                                                Ab
                                                               I never really loved you anyway
Abm
               Eb7
At least not unconditionally
                                                               B
                                                                               Fb7
                                                               At least not unconditionally
Abm
Like subjects love the once and future queen
                                                                                Abm
                                                                Like subjects love the once and future queen
```

Acordes

