

Johnny Cash - God Bless Robert E. Lee

Tom: A

A D
 Well the mansion where the General used to live is burning down

E
 Cottonfields are blue, with Sherman's troops
 A D A
 I overheard a Yankee say yesterday Nashville fell

E
 So I'm on my way, to join the fight General Lee might need my help.

D
 But look away, look away Dixie, I don't want them to see

A
 What they're doing to my Dixie, God Bless Robert E. Lee.

Riff:

A D Sherman's troops, burned Atlanta, and the flames lit up the sky

E A
 And those of us who survived it, are watchin' my Dixie die.

D A
 But today, at Appamattox, General Lee sat down

E A
 And surrendered to the Yankees and Ulysses S. Grant.

D
 So look away look away Dixie, I don't want them to see

A E
 What they're doing to my Dixie, God Bless Robert E. Lee.

Riff:

 A
 I won't ever stop loving you my Dixie, till they put me in the ground

 A
 And the last words they probably hear from me are God Bless
 Robert E. Lee

Riff: (Slowly, let ring)
