

Josh Garrels - Born Again

tom:

Intro: G A G A

I came into the world, into the wild

No place for a child
Used my voice to howl

With the ghouls of night

In the dying light

Had to learn to get what I need

In the dark, empty
Instincts are guiding me

Like a beast to some blood

And I can't get enough

I'm losing control; my body, my soul

Are slowly fading away

But I'm ready now

To feel the power of change

[Refrão]

I'm my mother's child

I'm my father's son

It took me awhile

But my time has come

Gadd9 Aadd9 Gadd9 Aadd9

To be born again

Running scared in between what I hate
And what I need

Savior and enemy are both trying

To take my soul

And I can't hide no more

Stumble out to the light

Raise my fist up to fight
Then I catch your eye

So full of love

Lord, what have I done?

I cry at your feet, wounded for me

And all of the monsters and men

But here in your light

We can begin again

[Refrão]

I'm my mother's child

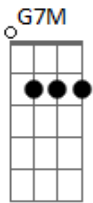

I'm my father's son

It took me awhile

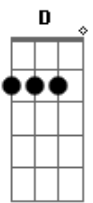

But my time has come

To be born again
