

Kassi Valazza - Verde River

tom:

Intro: G Am D G

I still don't have a single clue by the way I feel tonight

And I'm more than sure the flowers won't be blooming

I picked up dust and I know must be runnin' far behind

By the banks of the yellow Verde River

By the banks of the yellow Verde River

I filled my pockets full of its gold

And every stone upon the shore was glistenin'

And a single word could not be heard

Years go by while I pass the time but I just can't seem to leave

It's hard enough just to keep myself from tryin'

I think of all the people that have gone and passed me by

By the banks of the yellow Verde River

By the banks of the yellow Verde River

I filled my pockets full of its gold

And every stone upon the shore was glistenin'

And a single word could not be heard

I've seen my fair and freckled face in the water by my side

I'm smilin' but the pain it still resides

I laugh and cry and grin so wide you'd think I lost my mind

By the banks of the yellow Verde River

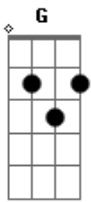

By the banks of the yellow Verde River

I filled my pockets full of its gold

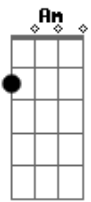

And every stone upon the shore was glistenin'

And a single word could not be heard
