

Katy Perry - Ghost

```
Tom: D
                                                                 Now, it's out of sight
                                                                         G -once
                                              C)
 (com acordes na forma de
                                                                 Like you were never alive
Capostraste na 2º casa
Intro: dução
                                                                 And now you're just a ghost
\mathsf{C}\ \mathsf{F}\ \mathsf{Am}\ \mathsf{G}\ \mathsf{C}
                                                                 When I look back never would have known that
Uma vez
          F
                                                                 You could be so cold
You sent a text
It's like the wind changed your mind
                                                                 Like a stranger vanish like a vapor
We were best friends
                                                                 There's just an echo where your heart used to be
Yeah, we were building our life
                                                                 Now I see it clearly
With every kiss, and every letter
                                                                 And there's just a pillow where your head used to sleep
           G
                                                                 My vision's twenty-twenty
Every promise of forever, oh
But you hit send
                                                                 I see through you now, now, now, now, now..
And disappeared in front of my eyes
                                                                 Now, now, now, now, now...
                                                                 So rest in piece
And now you're just a ghost
                                                                 I'll see you on the other side
When I look back never would have known that
You could be so cold
                                                                 And now you're just a ghost
                                                                 When I look back never would have known that
Like a stranger vanish like a vapor
There's just an echo where your heart used to be
                                                                 You could be so cold
                                                                           G
Now I see it clearly
                                                                 Like a stranger vanish like a vapor
And there's just a pillow where your head used to sleep
                                                                 There's just an echo where your heart used to be
My vision's twenty-twenty
C -once
                                                                 Now I see it clearly
I see through you now
                                                                 And there's just a pillow where your head used to sleep
                                                                 My vision's twenty-twenty
Something has died
                                                                               C
                                                                 I see through you now, now, now, now, now Oh,
Now that I have made up my mind
                                                                 Now, now, now, now, now
I'll be alright
                                                                 I see through you now ,now, now, now, now
      G
It doesn't haunt me at night
                                       \mathsf{Am}
                                                                 Now, now, now, now, now
'Cause every gift, and every letter, every promise of forever
                                                                 I see through you now
```

Acordes

