

Katy Perry - I Think I'm Ready

Tom: C

(intro) C

(verso 1)

I'm used to opening my own doors and splitting the checks
The introduced me

was always just a friend I bought a new dress

he never noticed

Always falling for these bad boys such a challenge I'm getting tired of cleaning up after them

I think I'm ready to be a woman

(chorus 1)

Oh love

I think I'm ready ready for it

(verso 2)

You were such a surprise an unexpected gift
Said I was pretty

and I believed it Not really used to

all this attention

Told myself I don't deserve you
And this is just a phase Could I get used to being loved the right way

I want to argue but there is nothing to say

(chorus 2)

Oh love

I think I'm ready
ready for it
ready for it

Oh love I think I'm ready

(bridge)

Cause you send me flowers
when there's no occasion

Yeah we talk for hours
you still want to listen

Won't hold it against me if I just need you to hold me tonight

(verso 3)

My mother always told me that you'd show up one day (hold)
(So scared) to feel this way

(chorus 3)

But love

I think I'm ready
ready for it
ready for it

Oh love I think I'm ready

Oh love I think I'm ready (hold)
