

Katy Perry - Save As Draft

Intro: Gbm D A
                                                              I could just throw a line to you
       Gbm D A
                                                              But I should let sleeping dogs lie
                                                               'Cause I know better, baby
I remember when you used to be my every other thought
                                                              I write it
But now my calendar's so full, it's easier to move on Erase it
                                                              Α2
Sometimes I swear I pass your SUV on Sunset Boulevard
                                                              Repeat it
                                                               But what good will it do
I don't fuck with change, but lately I've been flipping coins
                                                                   F
                                                                          D
                                                               To reopen the wound
I struggle
                                                               So I take a deep breath
I juggle
                                                                    Gbm D A
                                                               And I save as draft
I could just throw a line to you
But I should let sleeping dogs lie
                                                              I've heard you've done some changing
'Cause I know better, baby
                                                              I've been rearranging
I write it
                                                              Wish that I could know, but I just don't know
Erase it
                                                              Never get that time back
Α2
Repeat it
                                                              Fear we'd fall in old traps
But what good will it do
                                                              Why can't we just let go
To reopen the wound
                                                                           Gbm
                                                              Staring at a fork in the fucking road
So I take a deep breath
                                                              I struggle
     Gbm D A
And I save as draft
                                                              I juggle
                                                              I could just throw a line to you
You don't have to subtweet me
                                                              But I should let sleeping dogs lie
My number's always been the same
                                                               'Cause I know better, baby
But all's been said and done
                                                               I write it
                                                              Erase it
Will we ever really close this case?
                                                              Α2
                                                            A Repeat it
Yeah, I will always be here for you, but I could no longer
                                                              But what good will it do
                                                                   E
Still my body goes in shock every time I hear your name
                                                              To reopen the wound
                                                                 Gbm D
                                                              So I take a deep breath
I struggle
                                                                    Gbm D A
I juggle
                                                              And I save as draft
```
