

Kayden - Like Drops In The Ocean

tom:
 Capostraste na 2ª casa

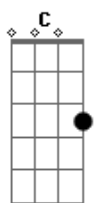

I just had to let you know
 That everything that shines ain't gold
 And when you finally find what's left of This lonely adolescent, I hope
 Cause I have bones in my closet
 Saying that I lost it you know I try not to listen
 And when I thought that we were perfect
 I could see the difference and now I know what I'm missing, yeah
 And you might have got the best of me and I'm still broken
 right now
 Well time will tell the rest of it, so my story's yet to tell
 And you might've gotten close to me and your all I think about
 Well better days are coming around
 Cause everyday it comes like drops in the ocean
 When you say you're done is that really love?
 When I move on, you'll say, oh how I've been searching for you
 Soon I'll be holding you right here in my arms
 And I know that I won't be here for too long
 Still I don't wanna leave you dry
 No I don't wanna be that guy

But I know you have your pride
 And I've been running all through this town
 Thinking that you were where I am now
 And I'm so glad that I'm found, yeah
 Well, time will tell the rest of it so my story's yet to tell
 And you might've gotten close to me and your all I think about, well
 Better days are coming around
 Cause everyday it comes like drops in the ocean
 When you say you're done is that really love?
 When I move on, you'll say, oh how I've been searching for you
 And babe, when I get old I won't look I used to I'll be better off if I didn't choose you
 With a heavy heart I hope you find someone new
 Soon I'll be holding you right here in my arms
 And I know that I won't be here for too long
 Cause everyday it comes like drops in the ocean
 When you say you're done is that really love?
 When I move on, you'll say, oh how I've been searching for you
 And babe, when I get old I won't look I used to
 No I'll be better off if I didn't choose you
 With a heavy heart I hope you find someone new
