

Keane - Black Burning Heart

Tom: D

(intro) D D Em Em A

(solo)

verso)

I wish that I could be
 In the cellars of the sea
 And disappear in them
 Never to be seen again

Live this life
 Its unrelenting appetite
 For feeding off the weak
 Who never had their time to speak

(pré-refrão)

The sky will be my shroud
 A monumental cloud

(refrão) (solo)

If we could turn back, you can't paper over the crack
 But it will return now, and your heart will burn black

(verso)

Give me your hand
 Cut the skin, let me in
 The molecules of us
 Bleeding into one again

(pré-refrão)

The sky will be my shroud

The cenotaph of cloud

(Refrão)

If we could turn back, you can't paper over the crack
 But it will return now, and your heart will burn black
 Forgotten my way home, forgotten everything that I know
 Every day a false start, and it burns my heart

(ponte 1)

I know
 Everything you said was right, and I suppose
 Everything is here forever, till it goes
 You gave it all away, kept nothing for yourself
 Just a picture on the shelf

Bm G7 Em G A

Je souhaiterais merger
 Dans les profondeurs des mers
 Y disparatre
 Pour ne plus jamais tre vu

(ponte 2)

Burning up now
 And I'm racing down a road I don't recognise
 I realise I've

(refrão) (solo)

Forgotten my way home, forgotten everything that I know
 Every day a false start, and it burns my heart
 Turn Back
