Keemo - Beautiful Lie

Tom: Bb

   F                                    F
Eb
Yesterday, today, tomorrow              Fade away like frozen photographs
F                                                          F
Remember, forget                The stakes, the ways you take
        Eb
F
The ways you make the moment pass       For every regret
                  Eb        G
I tell a beautiful lie
                Gm7                F
And i would die if you find out
                  F                Eb
Eb7         F
I tell a beautiful lie every time that i did not open up my mouth
                                        F        Eb
All the same, its a game        Its a play, its a war
                                        A(slide)  F
```

```
Its a shame that we're always fighting for      I dont mean to cost no blame
Eb                                          Bb  F
I dont intend to prentend, i could never loved you more
                          Eb        G                  Gm7
F
But in the blink of an eye      Everything you ever knew can change
                              F           Eb
Eb7         F
And its a beautiful lie if you think everything will always stay the same

Baby
My baby
You got a secret, it's starting to show
My baby
Sweet baby
How long can you keep it?
How far would you go?
You tell a beautiful lie
You tell a beautiful lie
And its going to, its going to drive you crazy
