

Kiss - Betrayed

Tom: G

Standard tuning

Comments: Just two things here. First, at the very end of the solo. I have no idea what the correct notes are, all I hear is a barrage of notes underneath a wall of noise. I've put down a little something that Bruce usually plays here and there. The final phrase is correct. Second, the same thing happens during the outro solo. I have about a snowball's chance in hell of transcribing about halfway through so I just let it be. (I wish they would have remastered this album along with the others. It is by far the worst-sounding KISS album ever. Gene and Paul are not producers, that's for sure.)
