

Klondike - Brother Of My Heart

Tom: E
Intro: A E

She knows I'm not that brave
And cry when Frodo leaves
She's why I got this flat
That's way too big for the two of us
However, now she's gone
But you smile at everything
You've seen them come and go before

It's quiet for awhile
You light a cigarette
Even from afar
You know my thoughts by their silhouettes
So we don't have to talk
For now a beer's enough
To make the rain seem far away
The brother of my heart
Lives in you, I know
As long as they beat I will always have a
Safe retreat
?Cause brotherhood's an art
And we paint when we fall
And on this canvas colors are painted on
Once and for all
You say I've put on weight
I say you've lost some hair
Since nineteen-ninety-eight

When we dreamt of France in the summer air
Suddenly I'm back to when
I smiled at everything
And got my first can of paint and learned
The brother of my heart
Lives in you, I know
As long as they beat I will always have a
Safe retreat
?Cause brotherhood's an art
And we paint when we fall
And on this canvas colors are painted on
Once and for all

I build these castles made of sand
Again and again and think that they will do
But start anew
With less sand than I had before
And one more time I loose it to the shore
It's a state of war
( A E )
( A E )
Again and again and think that they will do
With less sand than I had before
And one more time I loose it to the shore
It's a state of war
Again and again and think that they will do
With less sand than I had before
And one more time I loose it to the shore
