Lady Antebellum - Hurt

                         tom:
                     G

              [Verso 1]

C       F              C
If my memory gets the best of me
          F            C    G
Then I'll always find an excuse
              F                   C
Yeah, I'll make believe, re-write history
          F       G
Ignite a spark I can't undo
      F                  C              G
It always starts out simple like a conversation
   Dm                  Am                  F
Before I know it, I'm lost in your illumination

[Refrão]

          C                           F
If you catch my eye across a crowded room
      Am                              F
I'll fall into the atmosphere surrounding you
          C                         F
If you pull me close just to disappear
       Am           G             F
The chances are I'd wait for you a thousand years
        Dm                  Am              G
If you light the fuse you know that I'll react
          Dm              G            F
If you're reckless with your love just to take it back
                         C         G
You could hurt somebody like that

[Verso 2]

           F              C
You're a carnival on a summer night
       F            C
Gone too soon every time
              F                 Am
Yeah, it's beautiful how you burn so bright
       F                    G

In the waste land you leave behind

[Refrão]

          C                           F
If you catch my eye across a crowded room
      Am                              F
I'll fall into the atmosphere surrounding you
          C                         F
If you pull me close just to disappear
       Am           G             F
The chances are I'd wait for you a thousand years
        Dm                  Am              G
If you light the fuse you know that I'll react
          Dm              G            F
If you're reckless with your love just to take it back
                         C
You could hurt somebody like that

( F Em Am F )

[Ponte]

          C              F
If you call me up at 3AM
       Am                              F
I'll run to the rescue time and time and time again

[Refrão]

          C                           F
If you pull me close just to disappear
      Am           G             F
The chances are I'd wait for you a thousand years
        Dm                  Am              G
If you light the fuse you know that I'll react
          Dm              G            F
If you're reckless with your love just to take it back
                         C         F
You could hurt somebody like that
                              Am       F
You could hurt somebody like that
                                    C
You could hurt somebody like that
