

Lady Gaga - Lovedrug

```
Thought we'd last a lifetime, when I'm mumbling alone
               tom:
               G
Intro: Gm Bb Cm Bb Eb Bb F
                                                            I taste the last words that you spoke to me like wine
                                                           My heart is in a bind, if I could bear it on my own
(Need your love, your love drug, your love drug)
                                                            I wouldn't try so hard to numb what's left behind
            Bb F
(Need your love drug)
                                                            I know this time
River in my eyes, I've got a poem in my throat
                                                             Gm
                                                            I won't escape these thoughts that I dread
I hear the music and it takes me by surprise
                                                            I need you tonight
Pictures in my mind, they come on faster than they go
                                                                  Gm
                                                            But I'm gonna fight the feeling instead
Another round, hopin' this one will make me blind
                                                                       Bb Cm
                                                             I don't wanna feel, I don't wanna cry
I know this time
                                                                 Bb F
                                                            So I'm gonna dance until I feel all right
I won't escape these thoughts in my head
                                                                          Bb Cm
                                                                                      Bb
                                                            I just need a dose of the right stuff
I need you tonight
                                                                   Bb F
                                                            I just need a hit of your love drug
     Gm
But I'm gonna fight the feeling instead
                                                            Gm Bb Cm
                                                             I don't wanna feel, I don't wanna cry
          Bb Cm
                                                                     Bb F
 I don't wanna feel, I don't wanna cry
                                                            So I'm gonna dance until I feel all right
     Bb F
                                                           Gm Bb Cm Bb
So I'm gonna dance until I feel all right
                                                           I just need a dose of the right stuff
                                                                   Bb F
              Bb Cm
                          Bb
                                                            I just need a hit of your love d
I just need a dose of the right stuff
                                                           Bb Cm Bb Eb Bb F
       Bb F
I just need a hit of your love drug
                                                                  Love drug
Gm Bb Cm
                                                                            Bb
                                                                                Cm
I don't wanna feel, I don't wanna cry
                                                             Need your love, your love drug, your love drug
         Bb F
                                                                      Bb F
So I'm gonna dance until I feel all right
                                                           Need your love drug, need your love drug
Gm Bb Cm Bb Eb
I just need a dose of the right stuff
                                                           Gm Bb Cm Bb Eb Bb F
                                                                     Love drug
         Bb F
I just need a hit of your love drug
                                                                      Bb Cm
                                                                                       Bh Fh
                                                            I just need a dose of the right stuff
        Gm F
                                                                      Bb F
Your love drug
                                                           I just need a hit of your love drug
Acordes
     G
                              вЬ
                                                        Еb
                  Gm
                       Jkulele-chords.com
                                    ukulele-chords.com
```