

Lana Del Rey - Big Eyes

Tom: Eb

(com acordes na forma de Capostraste na 3ª casa

With your big eyes
 And your big lies
 With your big eyes
 And your big lies

I saw you creeping around the garden
 What are you hiding?
 I beg your pardon don't tell me "nothing"
 I used to think that I could trust you
 I was your woman
 You were my knight and shining companion
 To my surprise my loves demise was his own greed and lullaby

With your big eyes
 And your big lies
 With your big eyes
 And your big lies

I noticed you got hot in summer you had no comfort

Your shirt was cotton your face was sunburned
 You paced around like you'd been waiting
 Waiting for something
 Your world was burning and I stood watching
 As I looked on the flames grew high you watched me frown
 I said "goodbye"

With your big eyes
 And your big lies
 With your big eyes
 And your big lies

Is it me was I wrong to have trusted you
 Did I see what I wanted, what wasn't true?
 Was I wrong to go on like a little fool?
 It's amazing what women in love will do

With your big eyes
 And your big lies
 With your big eyes
 And your big lies
