

Lauren Cimorelli - Running

Tom: B

(forma dos acordes no tom de G)
Capostrate na 4ª casa

Maybe it's just my trust issues
 Maybe it's the thought of being with you
 Maybe it's just you
 Maybe you should already be gone
 Maybe I should just let you move on
 But I don't want you to

So I push you away then I pull you back
 Have another panic attack
 I tell you I'm crazy but you say that you can handle that
 And I'll start crying when you say that we shouldn't be friends
 And I'll sit in your truck wishing this would never end
 But we both know that soon I'll be running again
 I'm running, I'm running, I'm running
 I'm running, I'm running, I'm running
 I'm running, I'm running
 I'm running again

This has been messing with my sleeping patterns
 I've been throwing up in the bathroom
 Get home and I'm alone I can't process what's happening
 Every time I think I'm over it, these feelings come back even stronger
 Think I might explode if I hold them in any longer
 Coming to my window cause I left my charger in your car
 Driving to the middle of nowhere nobody knows where we are
 But you'd never pressure me and try to take it too far
 Don't know why this is so hard

You say that I'm such a good person but I'm definitely worse than you
 Cause the things you do and what you say I swear your perfect
 Gotta go cause it's my curfew
 I don't wanna hurt you
 The more that time goes by the more I realize that I don't deserve you

So I push you away then I pull you back
 Have another panic attack
 I tell you I'm crazy but you say that you can handle that
 And I'll start crying when you say that we shouldn't be friends
 And I'll sit in your truck wishing this would never end
 But we both know that soon I'll be running again
 I'm running, I'm running, I'm running
 I'm running, I'm running, I'm running
 I'm running, I'm running
 I'm running again

I'll shut you out then let you in
 And I'll go and talk to all your friends
 Say I'm done then do it all over again
 And I'll tell you things I've never said
 And I'll keep on messing with your head
 And I'm killing you
 But somehow I'm the one that ends up dead

So I push you away and I pull you back
 Break your heart right in half
 You want me to be your baby
 But I don't think that I can handle that
 And I know I'm lying when I say that we're only just friends
 But I'm a time bomb there's only one way this could end
 Don't get too close
 Cause soon I'll be running again

I'm running, I'm running, I'm running
 I'm running, I'm running, I'm running
 I'm running, I'm running
 I'm running again

I'm running, I'm running, I'm running
 I'm running, I'm running
 I'm running again

Soon I'll be running again
