

Lav - From Me, The Moon

Two years and you still look the same
 Wide blinking eyes look at me the same way
 Do my lips take you back to June?
 Do my lips make you miss me too?

Tell me if the years are all gone
 Is the moon still in love with the sun?
 Do you still keep counting my sins?
 Will your heart ever forgive my skin?

How many more first kisses?
 Are you gonna watch me pick up the pieces

I know you miss the furrow in my brow
 And I could be in your arms now

Tell me if the years are all gone
 Is the moon still in love with the sun?
 Do you still keep counting my sins?
 Will your heart ever forgive my skin?

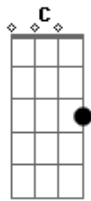

Tell me if the years are all gone
 Is the moon still in love with the sun?
 Do you still keep counting my sins?

And how do I win?
 To the first boy who lit me a flame
 Does your heart still remember my name?
