

Leonard Cohen - The Traitor

Tom: A

These are actually the chords from the cover of this song that Martha Wainwright did but these chords should be similar.

They are picked in a waltzy kind of fashion, like:

Now the Swan it floated on the English river
 Ah the Rose of High Romance it opened wide

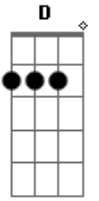

A: -2--3--

A sun tanned woman yearned me through the summer and the judges watched us from the other side
