

Tom: G

Linkin Park - Soul Song

```
Em
                                                               Am
Standard Tunning
                                                               Freedom raid,
                                                                                    G
                                                               D
chord used:
                                                               God has come,
                                                               Am Em
                                                               Rivers of blood,
          C
               Fm
                   G
                                                                                   C
                                                                                            G
                                                                                                     С
                                                               1] 1x
                                                               pushed back in my veins,
Picking 1, 2 and 3:
                                                               [C, C] [Picking Part 2] 1x
         C
                          G
                                    C
                                             ] [Picking Part
11
                                                               She sleeps with her eyes closed,
                                                               Am, C
                                                               to dream of the past,
                         C
                                          ] [Picking Part 2]
    [ C
                                                               Am, C
                                                               her mind has gone blind now,
                                                               Am, C
                                                               while the memory closes up this sun,
                                                     C
    [Am
                                           Am
] [Picking Part 3]
                                                               Am
                                                                   Em
                                                               freedom rain,
Intro: Am. C
                                                               God has come,
                                                               Am Em
Am, C
                                                               Rivers of blood,
I will be waiting,
                                                                          [
                                                                                            G
                                                                                                   С
                                                               1] 3x
Am, C
with a song in my soul,
                                                               pushed back in my veins,
Am, C
a fortunate weakling,
                                                               [C, C] [Picking Part 2] 1x
Am, C
which I have foretold,
                                                               Am, C
                                                               I will be waiting,
Am, C
                                                               Am, C
He raises his arms tied,
                                                               with a song in my soul,
Am, C
                                                               Am, C
above the abyss,
                                                               a fortunate weakling,
Am, C
                                                               Am, C
singing his sweet song,
                                                               which I have foretold
                                    G
                                             D
                                                               [Am, C, Am, C] [Picking Part 3]
```

his melody opens up the sun,

] [Picking Part

] [Picking Part

Acordes

