E

We were too young

B Dbm

To know we had everything

A E

Too young

B Dbm

I wish I could've seen it all along

I'm sorry that I hurt you, darling, no oh

We were too young

We were too young

We were too young

We were too young

I've been looking back a lot of ways

You and me is all I've ever known

It's hard to think you could ever hate me

But everything's really different now

Oh, I can't believe I gave into the pressure

They said a love like this would never last

So I cut you off

Cause I didn't know no better

Now I realize, yeah, I realize

We were too young

We were too young

We were too young

We were too young

We were too young

We were too young

We were too young

We were too young

We were too young

We were too young

We were too young

We were too young

We were too young

We were too young

We were too young

We were too young

We were too young

We were too young

We were too young

We were too young

We were too young

We were too young

We were too young

We were too young

We were too young

We were too young

We were too young

We were too young

We were too young

We were too young

We were too young

We were too young

We were too young

We were too young

We were too young

We were too young

We were too young

We were too young

We were too young

We were too young

We were too young

We were too young

We were too young

We were too young

We were too young

We were too young

We were too young

We were too young

We were too young

We were too young

We were too young

We were too young

We were too young

We were too young

We were too young

Of all the things we've never said before

Oh, I can't believe I gave into the pressure

They said a love like this would never last

So I cut you off

Cause I didn't know no better

Now I realize, yeah, I realize

We were too young

We were too young

We were too young

We were too young

We were too young

We were too young

We were too young

We were too young

We were too young

We were too young

We were too young

We were too young

We were too young

We were too young

We were too young

We were too young

We were too young

We were too young

We were too young

We were too young

We were too young

We were too young

We were too young

We were too young

We were too young

We were too young

We were too young

We were too young

We were too young

We were too young

We were too young

We were too young

We were too young

We were too young

We were too young

We were too young

We were too young

We were too young

We were too young

We were too young

We were too young

We were too young

We were too young

We were too young

We were too young

We were too young

We were too young

We were too young

We were too young

We were too young

We were too young

We were too young

We were too young

We were too young

We were too young

We were too young

We were too young

We were too young

We were too young

We were too young

We were too young

We were too young

We were too young

We were too young

We were too young

We were too young

We were too young

We were too young

We were too young

We were too young

We were too young

We were too young

We were too young
