

Lucy Rose - The Confines Of This World

Tom: A

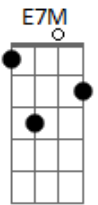

I really don't mean to bring you down
 But I need someone to talk to
 I heard that I might've brought you down
 I need someone to talk to
 And that person's you
 'Cause the confines of this world
 Are what make me uncomfortable
 But the world, it keeps on turning
 Well, I guess I'll keep turning too
 'Cause all I ever wanted was for you to feel proud
 And everybody's telling me I'm losing my mind
 And all I ever wanted was for you to feel calm
 Now everybody's worried that I'm losing my faith
 I really don't mean to bring you down
 But I need someone to talk to
 I heard that I might've brought you down
 I need someone to talk to

And that person's you
 'Cause the confines of this world
 Are what make me uncomfortable
 But the world, it keeps on turning
 Well, I guess I'll keep turning too
 'Cause all I ever wanted was for you to feel proud
 And everybody's telling me I'm losing my mind
 And all I ever wanted was for you to feel safe
 But everybody's worried that I'm losing my faith
 My faith
 When I see those opening eyes
 I know that I've hurt myself
 When I see those opening eyes
 Well, I know I found my call is unknown
 But all I ever wanted was for you to feel proud
 Now everybody's telling me I'm losing my mind
 And all I ever wanted was for you to feel calm
 Now everybody's worried that I'm losing my faith
