

Lunatica - Song For You

tom:

You hold my hand when I tremble with fear
 You bring me light when I burst out in tears
 And now I want to thank you, dear, for all the things you've done
 I can't deny (that) you showed me the right way

For the light, for the love
 For the truth in your eyes
 I am grateful to have such a friend by my side
 For the tears, for the joy
 For not asking me why
 We can hold our hands up and reach for the sky

You kept your faith when my words were untrue
 You made me laugh when I was feeling blue
 Always giving, never asking for more than a smile upon my face
 Together we will conquer the whole world

For the light, for the love
 For the truth in your eyes
 I am grateful to have such a friend by my side

I am grateful to have such a friend by my side
 For the tears, for the joy
 For not asking me why
 We can hold our hands up and reach for the sky
 (you) Don't have to worry
 We'll stay together all of our days
 You can trust in my words, you can rely on me
 And when dark clouds obscure the sky
 I'll be at your side
 Until the weight on your shoulders fades away

For the light, for the love
 For the truth in your eyes
 I am grateful to have such a friend by my side
 For the tears, for the joy
 For not asking me why
 We can hold our hands up and reach for the sky
 For the light, for the love
 For the truth in your eyes
 I am grateful to have such a friend by my side
