

The Magnetic Fields - I Think I Need a New Heart

```
Tom: G
                                                        cause it all comes out wrong
                                                                     D
                                                              G unless I p
Verso:
                                                                     ut it in a so ng
Em C G
                                                        D
Time stands still
                                                        so the radio plays
      D Em C
All I can feel is the time standing still Cause I always say I love you
    D Am
As you put down the keys
                                                       When I mean turn out the light
   C G D
And say don't call me please
                                                             C
                                                       And I say let's run away
  С
As the radio plays
                                                       When I just mean stay tonight
Refrão:
                                                       But the words you want to hear
                                                               n G
                                                       You will never hear from me, I'll never say
                                                        Happy anniversary
Em C G
                                                                         G
You've lied too
                                                       Never stay to say, Happy anniversary
but it's a sin that I Refrão:
can't tell the truth
```

Acordes

