Tom: G
 Intro: G Em Gbm G D G C
 Em Gbm G C D Em
 D C D G

Verso 1:

Gbm G G Em
 Well i try to close my eyes, clear my mind, and just listen to the wildflowers grow
 D G C
 Such whispers on the breeze, they don't come easy now, over all this noise
 Em Gbm G C D
 Spent my youth among the pines, they used to sing a tune so fine

Refrão:

Em D C D G
 And the wind, moved like an echo, carrying their voices

Verso 2:

G Em
 Gbm G
 I saw it in a dream, monuments of trees, as the air we breath
 turned our lungs to dust
 D G C
 And the redwood so tall, and all their aw, began to rust
 Em Gbm G C D

With no bend and sway at all, that ancient dance was lost

Refrão:

Em D C D G
 And the wind, moved like an echo, with a sigh in every guss
 ( G Em Gbm G D G C )
 ( Em Gbm G C D Em )
 ( D C D G )

Ponte:

Em C
 Well some day i hope to find, that land of funny wine
 D G D
 Where the coffee grows on the wide oak trees
 Am G
 And those sugar coated mountaints, in the spring begin

C
 To melt, to sweetest stream

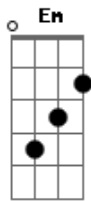

Verso 3:

Em Gbm G
 Reached night, the starlight and the sea
 C D Em D C
 Together form eternity, and the wind moves like an echo
 D G
 As the world drops all, to sleep
