She drinks her coffee late at night
D G
You can sense that she is guarded
D G
But that's alright

D G
She'll fall asleep while your still talking
D G
With unfinished books beside her bed
D G
She'll cancel all of her appointments
D G
And go shopping instead

E
And in spite of what is right
G
Far beyond what she'd expect
E
When the moon begs the question
G (once)
Will you have the answer yet?
D G
Can't you just adore her?
D G
Can't you just adore her?

D G
She loves to watch the sunset
D G
But she is partial to the rain
D G
With those tears and that umbrella
D G

Her allure goes unexplained

D G
You made dinner in your apartment
D G
You both assume that she'll be late
D G
She always has the best intentions
D G
Her goodness is innate

E
And in spite of what is right
G
Far beyond what she'd expect
E
When the moon begs the question
G (once)
Will you have the answer yet?
D G
Can't you just adore her?
